INQUIRY: HP PRESENTS LONG ISLAND MODERNISM, 1930 – 1980 BY CAROLINE ROB ZALESKI

Wednesday, October 1, 2014
6:30 pm | 200 Buell North
FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC
James Marston Fitch Charitable Foundation Symposium
“The Accidental Preservationist: Artists, Artisans, Outliers & the Future of Historic Preservation”

Fitch Colloquium
“Transformative: Seven Ideas for New Preservation”

Exterior Restoration Conference

Rutgers British Studies Center “Objects of Empire”

NY Chapter of the Association for Gravestone Studies Fall Meeting

Institute for Latino Studies at Notre Dame Young Scholars Symposium

“Learning from the Reservation: Using the Traditional Cultural Place Perspective for Better Decision Making in a Diverse Cultural Landscape” Conference

2015 Advocacy Scholar Program Call for Papers

NCPTT “Mid-Century Modern Structures: Materials and Preservation” Symposium Call for Papers

Fitch Prize
Rome Prize 2015

Urban Land Institute Event
New York Historical Society: Group Tours Fall 2014 Open House
2014 Landmarks Lion Award
Andrew Scott Dolkart

Docomomo US “The Future of Mid-Century” 50+ tours for 8th annual National Docomomo US Tour Day
The Center of Jewish History "The Lost Shul Mural"

LMW "The Apthorp Apartments: A Tour with Andrew Scott Dolkart"

InQuiry:HP "Long Island Modernism, 1930 – 1960 by Caroline Rob Zaleski”

Merchants’ House Museum Restoration Archive Intern
Tenure-Track Assistant Professor in Heritage Resource Management

Adobe in Action Adobe Conservation and Preservation Course
Hed Innovation in Affordable Housing Student Design and Planning Competition

September

CALL FOR PAPERS
FELLOWSHIPS & GRANTS
EXHIBITIONS & EVENTS
WALKING TOURS & LECTURES
JOB POSTINGS & INTERNSHIPS
MISCELLANEOUS
CALENDAR

InQuiry:HP "The Apthorp Apartments: A Tour with Andrew Scott Dolkart”

InQuiry:HP "Long Island Modernism, 1930 – 1960 by Caroline Rob Zaleski”

InQuiry:HP "The Apthorp Apartments: A Tour with Andrew Scott Dolkart”

InQuiry:HP "Long Island Modernism, 1930 – 1960 by Caroline Rob Zaleski”
James Marston Fitch Charitable Foundation Symposium

On the occasion of its 25th anniversary, the James Marston Fitch Charitable Foundation will present The Accidental Preservationist: Artists, Artisans, Outliers & the Future of Historic Preservation – a day-long multi-disciplinary symposium exploring the influence of non-traditional practitioners of historic preservation on architectural revitalization throughout the United States.

Get to know the speakers and their work in advance of the Symposium by following the Fitch Foundation on Facebook and Twitter.

Following the Symposium, Preservation Alumni joins with the Fitch Foundation to co-host an after-party for attendees and speakers. Enjoy this opportunity to discuss the themes of the symposium in a casual setting or simply to connect with new colleagues! Stay tuned for after-party time and location.

The Accidental Preservationist: Artists, Artisans, Outliers and the Future of Historic Preservation

Friday, October 17, 2014
Roosevelt House Public Policy Institute at Hunter College
47-49 East 65th Street, New York, NY

Fitch Colloquium

To mark the 50th anniversary of Columbia’s Historic Preservation masters program, GSAPP’s Fitch Colloquium is offering seven ideas to move our field forward.

Admission to the Colloquium is free, there is a $20 fee for the Alumni Reception, click here to register for the events.

Fitch Colloquium - Transformative: Seven Ideas for New Preservation
Saturday, October 18, 2014
Colloquium: 10:00am-5:00pm
Wood Auditorium - Columbia University
Alumni Reception: 5:30-7:30pm
Casa Italiana, 1161 Amsterdam Avenue

Exterior Restoration Conference

This full day conference features numerous business and educational panels including question and answer sessions with leading industry experts. In addition, the conference is an excellent way to interact with and develop new business opportunities with key individuals within the industry. The event will be attended by Contractors, Owners, Property Managers, Engineers, Architects, Material Manufacturers, Public Agency Officials, Attorneys, Expeditors and others active in the field.

By attending and participating in this extraordinary event, you will hear the opinions of professionals on current issues and will be exposed to expert commentary on critical industry subjects such as Site Safety, The Scaffold Law, Insurance Issues, The Profitability of Local Law 11, Landmark Preservation, New DOB Regulations, Sustainable Repairwork, etc. In addition, the conference will provide positive exposure to you and your organization as well as business networking opportunities.

Tuesday, October 28, 2014
8am-3pm | NYU Kimmel/Global Center, 60 Washington Square South
For more information and to register, please click here.

Rutgers British Studies Center Symposium

This symposium explores how the British Empire produced, reinforced and provoked criticism of itself through material objects from grand public buildings to humble cups of tea. Architecture manifested the social values of public practices, including worship, shopping, and visiting exhibitions. Commodities –their production, circulation, consumption, and narration --represented the reach and limits of empire. The resistance to the imperial erasure of identity may also be uncovered in close readings of objects.

Please join us for this interdisciplinary conference, which is free and open to the public.

Alex Bremner, Edinburgh College of Art
Great and Greater Britain: Architecture and the Politics of New Imperialism, 1887-1915

Louis Nelson, University of Virginia
Architectures of Empire in Jamaica

Erika Rappaport, University of California, Santa Barbara
“Every Kitchen an Empire Kitchen”: Tea and the Politics of Imperial Consumerism in Interwar Britain and India

Ross Forman, University of Warwick
Cathay on Display: The Chinese Court at the “South Kensington Caravanserai,” 1884

Friday, October 24, 2014
10am-4pm | Alexander Library, Pane Room at Rutgers University
For more information, contact carla.yanni@gmail.com
NY Chapter of the Association for Gravestone Studies Fall Meeting

The New York Chapter of the Association for Gravestone Studies (AGS) is pleased to announce its fall meeting, to be held on November 8, 2014. The event will take place at The Evergreens Cemetery, Brooklyn, from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The meeting will include talks on a variety of topics related to cemeteries and gravestone studies. In the afternoon a tour of the cemetery will be offered. Author and historian John Rousmaniere, who will lead the tour, wrote Green Oasis in Brooklyn: The Evergreens Cemetery, 1849-2008, the history of the Evergreens Cemetery and its design, headstones, and relationship with New York and Brooklyn.

An invitation with the program and more details will be emailed soon.

You can find more information about the New York Chapter of AGS and its upcoming events on Facebook at www.facebook.com/New.York.Chapter.AGS.

To learn more about AGS see www.gravestonestudies.org or www.facebook.com/gravestonestudies.

For more information about the Evergreens Cemetery see www.theevergreenscemetery.com.

Saturday, November 8, 2014
8:30-3:30pm | The Evergreens Cemetery, Brooklyn

Institute for Latino Studies at Notre Dame Young Scholars Symposium

The Institute for Latino Studies at the University of Notre Dame is pleased to announce our annual Virgilio Elizondo Distinguished Visiting Professorship. Our visiting professor for this year is Dr. David Carrasco, the Neil L. Rudenstine Professor of the Study of Latin America, Harvard Divinity School, joint appointment with the Department of Anthropology in the Faculty of Arts and Sciences, Harvard University.

Professor Carrasco’s activities on the Notre Dame campus will include a symposium for advanced doctoral students and pre-tenured professors. We seek applications from young scholars who are working on a dissertation, a book, or another research project related to the study of U.S. Latina and Latino populations. Successful nominees will attend Professor Carrasco’s public lecture and participate in a symposium at which they will present a dissertation chapter or essay draft for discussion with Professor Carrasco and ILS faculty fellows. ILS will cover all expenses and offer an honorarium of $500 to each young scholar selected to participate in these events, which will take place April 9-10, 2015 at the University of Notre Dame.

Applicants are asked to submit a CV, one letter of recommendation, and a brief (2 pages or less) application letter that presents (a) a general summary of your dissertation project and/or overall research agenda, (b) a précis of your proposed chapter or essay submission for the symposium, (c) a statement of your progress to date on the overall project and on the proposed chapter or essay submission, and (d) a statement of how specifically Professor Carrasco’s expertise and mentorship will enhance your research. Please submit your application materials no later than January 15, 2015 to latino@nd.edu.
Learning from the Reservation Conference

The National Council for Preservation Education is hosting a conference to highlight and share the innovative work that applies the Traditional Cultural Place perspective beyond its application to Native American historic resources to identify, document and mitigate impacts to properties important to other cultural groups. The issue of diversity in historic preservation, in terms of landscape associations, culture, and practice, is a critical and complicated one. This conference will provide a forum for the discussion of how issues of diversity challenge the application of conventional methods of identification, documentation, and mitigation.

The historic resources to be discussed at this conference are best described as Traditional Cultural Places (TCPs), a term most often applied to those properties of importance to Native American/Indian Tribes and Native Hawaiian Organizations. The title, Learning from the Reservation, pays homage to the perspective of the sovereign nations who deal with the impact of the dominant American culture on their land and community. The cultural groups being discussed at this forum can benefit from the hard work and legacy of the application of the National Historic Preservation Act (NHPA) through the lens of the Tribal Preservation programs.

The conference will be organized around a single track of papers focused on three aspects of working with non-traditional Traditional Cultural Places: Identification, Documentation, and Mitigation. Papers can address all three topics but must focus primarily on one aspect. A stipend to cover travel expenses will be offered to all successful paper authors to facilitate participation in this event.

Paper Proposals should be no more than 400 words in length, and should be accompanied by a one-page c.v.

Submit paper proposals by October 15, 2014, via email to Rebecca Sheppard, rjshep@udel.edu and Jeremy Wells, jwells@ruw.edu. Authors will be notified by November 30, 2014, regarding acceptance of papers. Full drafts of selected papers will be due by February 1, 2015.

The conference will be held at Delaware State University (April 23-15, 2015) and co-sponsored by NCPE, Historic Preservation Education Foundation, Delaware State University, University of Delaware, Roger Williams University and the Delaware State Preservation Office and Division of Historical and Cultural Affairs.

The conference is timed to coincide with efforts by the NPS to revise NRHS Bulletin 38 Guidelines for Evaluating and Documenting Traditional Cultural Properties.

For information about the conference, contact Robin Krawitz via email at krawitz@desu.edu or 302-857-7139.

2015 Advocacy Scholar Program Call for Papers

Preservation Action Foundation has announced the 2015 Advocacy Scholar Program call for papers. Please help us get the word out and encourage undergraduate and graduate students to submit papers and win an opportunity to join a community of historic preservationists and participate in the annual National Historic Preservation Advocacy Week.

Through the Advocacy Scholars Program, Preservation Action Foundation offers a limited number of stipends so that students can attend the National Historic Preservation Advocacy Week in Washington, D.C. This year’s program will be held March 2-4, 2015 in Washington, D.C. In addition to the stipend, Advocacy Scholars receive complimentary registration to the conference and are our guests at special events including the Congressional Reception and luncheon.

To be considered, applicants submit:

1. A cover letter stating your interest, any previous legislative or advocacy experience and how participating in the program will contribute to your academic work and professional goals.

2. A 1,500 word essay on one of the following topics:
   - National Heritage Areas@30: In 2014 Congress considered multiple requests to designate new National Heritage Areas, even though the program faces continued financial and legislative challenges. Why is this large landscape program so compelling and what is its future? Give us your thoughts.
   - Why is this large landscape program so compelling and what is its future? Give us your thoughts.
   - How do people who value preservation continue to take a stand? How to engage the next generation of historic preservationists and advocates?

3. Proof of academic enrollment.

Students should submit essays by email to education@preservationaction.org by Friday, October 31, 2014. This is a competitive juried process. Selected Advocacy Scholars will be notified no later than Monday, January 5, 2015.

For more information, www.preservationaction.org/advocacy-scholars-2015 or contact Trisha Logan, Vice Chair of Development for Preservation Action at education@preservationaction.org.
MID-CENTURY MODERN: MATERIALS & PRESERVATION SYMPOSIUM

NCPTT, Friends of NCPTT, NPS Jefferson National Expansion Memorial, American Institute for Architects St. Louis, Washington University in St. Louis, and the World Monuments Fund, are soliciting oral and poster presentations for a jointly organized symposium on the preservation of Mid-Century Modern Structures.

Focusing primarily on the history, use, and preservation of materials found in Mid-Century modern architecture, the 2015 three-day symposium will provide in-depth understanding of the complex issues associated with the preservation of these structures. Special emphasis will be on modern architectural metals, but presentations on other materials, such as concrete and curtain wall structures, will be included. Additionally, presentations may explore future directions in materials conservation associated with mid-century modern architecture as well as current gaps in research and understanding of issues.

Speakers will be offered a reduced registration fee of $199. More details are given at http://ncptt.nps.gov

Written papers
Presenters will be required to prepare a short paper, 10 pages maximum, or inclusion in a symposium publication. Those speakers selected for the conference will receive format instructions. Deadline for submission of the paper is February 2, 2015.

Poster presentations
Posters should be approximately 36 x 40 inches, landscape. Please submit an abstract of no less than 500 words (excluding figures and references). Abstract should contain: main presenter’s full contact information (name, title, organization, address, phone, fax, email). Poster presentation abstract deadline is December 1, 2014.

Oral presentations
Talks will be 30 minutes in duration, including questions. Please submit an abstract of no less than 500 words. Abstract should contain: presenter’s full contact information (name, title, organization, address, phone, fax, email), and a 100-word biography for the author and each co-author. We recommend no more than two presenters per paper. Oral presentation abstract deadline is October 15, 2014. Email notification of accepted presentations will be sent on December 1, 2014. Presentations addressing similar topics will be combined into sessions.
Fitch Prize

Second-year HP students are invited to apply for the Cleo & James Marston Fitch Prize. Named in honor of James Marston Fitch, the founder of the Historic Preservation program at Columbia, this prize is awarded annually to a student for an exceptional paper or project completed during their first year. This $500 award is made possible through the generous contributions of Preservation Alumni members.

Submissions can be made to info@preservationalumni.org no later than October 3rd, 2014.

---

Rome Prize 2015

The American Academy in Rome online application form for the 2015 Rome Prize competition is currently available on the Academy website at www.aarome.org

The American Academy in Rome is the oldest American overseas center for independent study and advanced research in the arts and the humanities. For one hundred and twenty years the Academy’s eleven acre center in Rome has provided an inspiring environment for those who practice the fine and liberal arts.

The Rome Prize is awarded annually to about thirty candidates, each selected by a jury of distinguished peers through a national competition.

The winners are invited to Rome to pursue their work for periods ranging from six months to two years. They are provided with stipends, residential accommodation, meals, private studies or studios, and most important, an atmosphere conducive to intellectual and artistic freedom, interdisciplinary exchange, and innovation.

Please visit the Academy website for more pertinent information about the Academy, the fellowship, application rules, guidelines, deadline, and fees.
Urban Land Institute Event

On Tuesday, October 7, several Columbia alumnae including Jack Heaney (MSRED ’08), Tiffany Lau (MSRED ’09), Sandy Albert (MSRED ’10), Dan Carr (MSRED ’11) and Joseph Weishaar (MBA ’11) will hold an informal chat with students about ULI New York. Firms represented include Fulcrum Properties, Jamestown Properties, Andover Properties, Ares Management and L+M Development. It will be a fairly casual event with ample time for discussion of the best ways to leverage ULI resources.

Please find bios below for several of the participants here.

Description of ULI New York:
ULI New York’s mission is to serve as the principal forum for real estate professionals in our area, reflecting the Urban Land Institute’s best practices in leadership development, community service and enhancement of land use policy and practice. ULI New York strives to provide to our members outstanding educational and informational forums and unique professional networking opportunities.

Wednesday, October 7, 2014
6pm-7:30pm | 200 Fayerweather

NYHS: GROUP TOURS FALL 2014 OPEN HOUSE

Group Tour Leaders and Tourism Professionals are cordially invited to a private viewing at our annual Group Tours Open House.

Enjoy a talk by the curator of the groundbreaking exhibition Chinese American: Exclusion/Inclusion, followed by an in-depth, docent-led tour. Starr catering will provide breakfast items, coffee, and tea.

Schedule:
8:30am–9:30am: Open House begins! Meet the Group Tours team and enjoy light refreshments
9:30am–10am: Presentation with curator Marci Reaven
10am–11am: Guided exhibition tours

Monday, October 6, 2014
8:30-11am
New York Historical Society Museum & Library

RSVP online or call Group Tours Assistant, Heather Lonks, at (212) 873-3400 ext 395.

2014 Landmarks Lion Award
Andrew Scott Dolkart

The Historic Districts Council, the citywide advocate for New York’s historic neighborhoods, will present its annual LANDMARKS LION AWARD on November 19 to Andrew Scott Dolkart, the James Marston Fitch Professor of Historic Preservation and Director of the Historic Preservation Program at Columbia University Graduate School of Architecture, Planning and Preservation (GSAPP).

Andrew is widely acknowledged as THE authority on New York City’s historic architecture. Active in the preservation field for more than three decades, he is an advocate, educator, tour guide, consultant, author of more than a dozen books and publications on New York City and contributor to countless Landmarks Preservation Commission designation reports. Through his many decades of service, he has introduced thousands of New Yorkers to their historic built environment, and his work has aided immeasurably to the efforts to preserve and protect the historic character of New York City.

The award ceremony and benefit dinner will take place on Wednesday, November 19, 2014, at 6:00pm, at the India House, One Hanover Square, New York, NY 10004. The Landmarks Lion Award is HDC’s major fundraising event and provides critical support for the broad range of educational and outreach programs that are crucial to HDC’s constituency, which includes more than 500 neighborhood organizations.

Wednesday, November 19, 2014
6pm | India House, One Hanover Square, NY, NY

For more information or to purchase tickets, contact HDC at 212-614-9107, hdc@hdc.org, or visit www.hdc.org
Docomomo US: The Future of Mid-Century

Docomomo US is pleased to announce the full schedule for Tour Day 2014, one of the largest national programs devoted to the appreciation of Modern architecture in the United States. Set to take place on October 11, 2014 and throughout the month of October, this year’s event includes more than 50 tours planned in 21 states and 37 individual cities and brings together 17 Docomomo US chapters, 5 friends organizations, in addition to architecture and preservation organizations, architects, historians, designers, and enthusiasts. Hosted by many of the leading preservation voices, Tour Day 2014 events will offer something for everyone!

The Docomomo US Tour Day schedule of events is currently online and features exclusive events and tours of sites not regularly open to the public. For the full list visit: www.docomomo-us.org/tourday

InQuiry:HP: Long Island Modernism, 1930 – 1980 by Caroline Rob Zaleski

Our next Inquiry: HP Lecture is with Caroline Rob Zaleski, Director of the Modern Long Island Survey for the Society for the Preservation of Long Island Antiquities (SPLIA) and author of Long Island Modernism 1930-1980, published by W.W. Norton. The book features archival photography and essays about the built work within Nassau and Suffolk counties of 25 architects, but also, in a master list, inventories of 600 listed buildings and their locations. The featured architects include founders of Modernism—for example, Richard Neutra, who designed the Swirbul Library on Adelphi University’s Garden City campus and two houses in Suffolk; Marcel Breuer (Geller Houses in Lawrence); Edward Durell Stone (Conger Goodyear House, Old Westbury); William Lescaze (the Calderone Movie Theatre, Hempstead); I.M. Pei (Roosevelt Field Shopping Center); Mies van der Rohe, Paul Rudolph, Walter Gropius and Frank Lloyd Wright.

She documents the development of exurbia (the regions beyond established early 20th Century suburbs) and the rise of visionary structures: residences for commuters and weekenders, public housing, houses of worship, universities, shopping centers and office complexes. She also explains why modernism was embraced by Long Island’s civic, cultural and business leaders during an epoch when open space was prime for development.

Zaleski will show photography and discuss how she came to work on her field survey, its method and her discovery of genuine surprises

Wednesday, October 1, 2014
6:30pm | 200 Buell North
FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

The Center of Jewish History: The Lost Shul Mural

The rediscovered lost mural of the former Chai Adam Synagogue in Burlington, VT reveals a painted window onto a vanished past. Dr. Samuel Gruber, international expert on Jewish art and architecture, Murray Zimiles, painter, curator and authority on Jewish folk art, and Ann-Isabel Friedman, Director, Sacred Sites Program, New York Landmarks Conservancy will discuss the cultural, artistic and religious context for this historic Jewish treasure.

Click here for an article about the lost shul mural in The New York Times.

Click here for additional press coverage.

Optional 5:30 pm tour of YUM’s exhibition Modeling the Synagogue - from Dura to Touro (space is limited).

Ticket Info: Free; reservations required. Click here to RSVP.

Monady, September 29, 2014
5:30pm | Center for Jewish History

The Apthorp Apartments: A Tour with Andrew Scott Dolkart

Join Columbia University Professor Andrew Scott Dolkart on a very rare tour of the Apthorp Apartments - one of the West Side’s most prestigious (and most threatened) addresses. The tour includes access to two apartments and a terrace view. A wine reception will follow.

This tour is a special event for LANDMARK WEST! members only.

Not sure if you are a current member? Join or renew today!

Tickets are $75, which includes a wine reception. We are only taking reservations by phone, so please call us at (212) 496-8110 to RSVP.

Tuesday, September 30, 2014
6pm | 390 West End Ave

The Docomomo US Tour Day schedule of events is currently online and features exclusive events and tours of sites not regularly open to the public. For the full list visit: www.docomomo-us.org/tourday

Click here for an article about the lost shul mural in The New York Times.

Click here for additional press coverage.

Optional 5:30 pm tour of YUM’s exhibition Modeling the Synagogue - from Dura to Touro (space is limited).

Ticket Info: Free; reservations required. Click here to RSVP.

Monday, September 29, 2014
5:30pm | Center for Jewish History

The Apthorp Apartments: A Tour with Andrew Scott Dolkart

Join Columbia University Professor Andrew Scott Dolkart on a very rare tour of the Apthorp Apartments - one of the West Side’s most prestigious (and most threatened) addresses. The tour includes access to two apartments and a terrace view. A wine reception will follow.

This tour is a special event for LANDMARK WEST! members only.

Not sure if you are a current member? Join or renew today!

Tickets are $75, which includes a wine reception. We are only taking reservations by phone, so please call us at (212) 496-8110 to RSVP.

Monday, September 29, 2014
5:30pm | Center for Jewish History

Columbia University Graduate School of Architecture, Planning & Preservation
400 Avery Hall • 1172 Amsterdam Avenue New York, NY 10027
hp@arch.columbia.edu • 212-854-3080
http://www.arch.columbia.edu/programs/historic-preservation
Restoration Archive Intern (Part-time)

The Restoration Archive Intern works to inventory and organize the Merchant’s House Museum’s archive of documents and drawings related to building restoration projects from 1989 to 2014.

About the Merchants’ House Museum

Built in 1832, the Merchant’s House was home to a prosperous merchant family and their Irish servants for almost 100 years. Complete with the family’s original furnishings and personal possessions, the house offers a rare and intimate glimpse of domestic life in New York City from 1835-1865. It has been a museum since 1936.

Considered one of the finest surviving examples of architecture from the period, the Merchant’s House has been recognized as a National Historic Landmark (one of only 2,500) and is listed on the National Register of Historic Places. In New York City, it has been awarded landmark status not only for its 1832 late-Federal brick exterior but also for its Greek Revival interior rooms. Visit www.merchantshouse.org for more information.

Duties and Responsibilities of the Restoration Archive Intern may include:

- Inventory
  - Compile documents related to building restoration, 1989-2014
  - Complete inventory check-list for restoration work by project name and date
  - Organize
  - Help create organizational system for documents and drawings

- General Operations
  - Assist with administrative tasks and museum programming, as needed
  - Conduct guided tours
  - Participate in special research projects

- The ideal applicant will have:
  - A background in architecture, history, or historic preservation
  - Strong organizational, writing, and computer skills, including MS Office
  - Willingness to "pitch-in"

Work schedules are flexible and all positions are unpaid. The Museum is glad to fulfill requirements for students to receive academic credit or federal work study compensation.

Students should apply by emailing their resume and a cover letter to: nyc1832@merchantshouse.org

Tenure-Track Assistant Professor in Heritage Resource Management

The Department of Anthropology and Archaeology at the University of Calgary invite applications for a tenure–track Assistant Professor in Heritage Resource Management (HRM) and Traditional Land Use (TLU), effective July 1, 2015.

The successful candidate will be expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses, develop a productive research program, supervise graduate students and participate in service activities within the department, university and community.

Candidates should have a PhD by the time of appointment in either Anthropology or Archaeology, a demonstrated record of and/or potential for teaching excellence at the post-secondary level, ongoing research and educational activities in the field of HRM/TLU. Candidates focusing on tangible heritage, as reflected in archaeological sites, historic monuments, and artefacts; or intangible heritage, as with traditional knowledge, place names, and patterns of land use and occupancy, will be considered. Candidates should have programs of research that address how communities can develop effective strategies for managing and sustaining heritage in all forms, particularly in the face of resource development impacts. Geographical area is open, but the ability to conduct work in the Canadian context and to bring a comparative perspective will be an advantage.

The Department of Anthropology & Archaeology is a multi-track program in biological anthropology, archaeology, and cultural anthropology. We offer undergraduate (B.A. and B.Sc.) and graduate (M.A. and Ph.D.) degrees.

The department plays leading roles in anthropological and archaeological studies throughout the Americas as well as in Africa, Asia, and Europe.

Along with a letter of application, applicants should provide a curriculum vitae, statement of citizenship, evidence of highest degree attained (such as a copy of the diploma), a statement of teaching philosophy, a statement of research interest, and samples of scholarly work. Applicants should also provide the names and addresses (including email address) of three referees.

Complete applications should be sent or emailed to:

HRM/TLU Search

c/o Julie Boyd

Department of Anthropology and Archaeology

University of Calgary

2500 University Drive NW

Calgary, Alberta T2N 1N4

E–mail: boydj@ucalgary.ca

To ensure full consideration, complete applications must be submitted by November 15, 2014.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. The University of Calgary respects, appreciates and encourages diversity.
Adobe Conservation and Preservation Course
Adobe Conservation and Preservation is a special supplementary training class that Adobe in Action is offering together with Pat Taylor. This class is geared towards students of historic preservation, professional builders, engineers and architects wanting to add Adobe preservation to their services as well as non-professional owner/builders wishing to learn more about restoring an existing Adobe structure. This is a blended format class which means that it is a mix of live and online instruction.

The 5-day live instruction portion of the class will be held in La Mesa and Las Cruces, New Mexico at two ongoing Adobe preservation projects. Pat will be covering a wide variety of Adobe preservation topics via hands-on work and demos.

The 4-week online component takes place directly before the 5-day live class and provides you with a thorough introduction to the most important theoretical topics of Adobe conservation and preservation.

Class: Adobe Conservation and Preservation (Blended Format: 4 Weeks Online + 5 Days Live Instruction)
Dates: Online Instruction October 6 to November 2, 2014, Live Instruction from November 3 to November 7 (M-F, 8am to 4pm)
Credits: 4
Format: Live Instruction in La Mesa/Las Cruces, New Mexico, Online Instruction via Minigroup
Instructors: Pat Taylor (Live), Kurt Gardella (Online)
Fee: $500

For information, please click here.

HUD Innovation in Affordable Housing Student Design and Planning Competition
The second annual HUD Innovation in Affordable Housing Student Design and Planning Competition challenges multi-disciplinary, graduate student teams to respond to a real life affordable housing design and planning issue. The competition is sponsored by HUD’s Office of Policy Development and Research (PD&R).

Multidisciplinary teams must be comprised of a minimum of three students (no more than five) plus one faculty advisor, representing at least three graduate level programs:
architecture
planning / public policy
business / real estate / social entrepreneurship

Important Dates:
10-01-2014  Registration Opens
11-12-2014  Competition launch; Phase I design problem
12-18-2014  Deadline for teams to register
02-09-2015  Deadline for teams to submit Phase I solution
02-20-2015  Finalists announced; Phase II
3-2015  Site visit for finalists (TBD)
4-2015  Final jury and winners announced in DC (TBD)

Prizes:
$20,000 to the winning team
$10,000 to the runner up

For more information, click here.